150 Killed as Violence Flares In Free Viet Nam

Civilian Refugees From Communism Among Casualties

SAIGON, Indochina (U)—The bloodiest battle of free Viet Nam's swelling civil war raged in the streets of Saigon today. Among the heavy casualties were many civilian refugees from communism caught in the cross-fire or in their blazing grass shelters.

At least 150 government troops loyal to American-backed Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and civilians were killed.

Casualties among the green-beretted troops of the rebellious Binh Xuyen sect of former river pirates were not known. The Binh Xuyen who have controlled both vice and the police force in Saigon have sworn to overthrow the premier.

An entire quarter of thatched huts housing refugees from the Communist-controlled North went up in flames.

Shell Premier's Palace

Screams of the trapped victims rose above the din of artillery and the sound of machineguns.

The immediate cause of the trouble was the ouster of Saigon police Chief Lai Van Sang by Diem. Sang, a leader of the Binh Xuyen sect, was replaced by Col. Nguyen Ngoc Le.

The new police chief promptly banned all movements of Binh Xuyen troops through the city effective at 2:30 p. m. (1:30 a. m. CST) in hopes of ending the sporadic clashes which have marred the city's peace for two months.

The first fighting flared when Binh Xuyen troops, barricaded in a high school, opened fire on a passing government convoy.

The government forces replied with machine gun fire and hand grenades. The government demanded the firing cease and threatened to shell the rebel headquarters.

But Gen. Le Van Viet, the rebel commander, ordered a major attack on the new headquarters of the Saigon police, which Diem had set up to replace the building seized earlier by the Binh Xuyen. Viet's forces shelled the premier's palace—residence for mortars, while government forces apparently managed to subvert a fuel gasoline stores in suburban Cholon.

Americans Presumed Safe

The French promptly moved in and obtained a temporary ceasefire. But 80 minutes later, smoke covered the city. Women, children and men refugees from the Communist-controlled north were in panic.

Cross huts housing refugees went up in flames while their occupants screamed in terror. Many were burned to death. Hundreds of Americans with military, economy and other missions previously had been ordered out of danger and were presumed to be safe. However, there was no definite word of their fate. The European quarter, where most of the Americans were, escaped the full fury of the fight.

Jelke Sentenced 2 to 3 Years

NEW YORK (U)—Oleo heir Minor F. (Mickey) Jelke was sentenced today to two to three years in prison for compulsory prostitution.

Judge Francis L. Valente sentenced the pint-sized playboy to two to three years on each of two counts on which he was convicted April 1, but specified the sentence should run concurrently.

He could have been sentenced to 20 years in prison on each count.

Valente, in passing sentence for the second time on Jelke said that the young man, convicted of running a $100-a-night call girl operation, had since his first trial achieved a "realization of his past behavior" and is "genuinely remorseful."

Jelke's first conviction was reversed by an appeals court on the ground that Valente had abridged his right to a fair trial by barring the press and public from the courtroom. He had been sentenced at that time to three to six years in prison. He was convicted again on April 1.

Since the first trial, he has married the beautiful blonde who was with him in his apartment, on the night of his arrest two years ago.

Marion Firm Low Bidder on Paving Here

Leon B. Stille of Marion was the low bidder to do the 1955 street paving program for the city of Harrisburg and was awarded the contract subject to conditions.

Stille's bid was $67,588.44, which is $3,000 below the engineer's estimate, to pave Sloan street east from South Main to the highway, and to pave O'Gara street from Granger west to the cemetery.

There were two other bids. The Triangle Construction Co. of Carbondale bid $75,712.75 and the J. D. Barter Construction Co. of Harrisburg bid $83,254.40.

The city council opened the bids yesterday at 2 p. m. and awarded the contract to Stille subject to his making performance bond and to the approval of the contract by the division of highways. The work will be done with motor fuel tax funds.

The project calls for bituminous surface paving, the streets to be 30 feet wide. There will be concrete guttering except on O'Gara from the West Harrisburg drainage ditch on west.

Eisenhower, Zhukov Letters May Aid Peace

WASHINGTON (U)—The surprising postal contact between President Eisenhower and his war-time buddy, Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, may be a boon to world peace.

Nobody could tell where the letter writing would lead and a few officials were willing to talk about it. But some experts said the Zhukov letter may be a new clue that the Soviets at last want to take some of the heat out of the cold war—even if only temporarily.

Mr. Eisenhower disclosed Wednesday that he was in contact with Zhukov, now Soviet defense minister. He said he hoped the correspondence would lessen world tensions.

The President declined to go into details of the exchange on the ground it was private. But reports said Zhukov started the letter writing by suggesting to Mr. Eisenhower that the United States should return Valery Lysikov, Russian teenager who fled to West Berlin last month.

The Russian official also suggested that the United States and Soviet Union compose their differences in the interest of world peace.

The President is reported to have replied that Lysikov was free to return to East Berlin if he wanted. The teenager eventually did so.

Special Significance

Mr. Eisenhower also is said to have suggested that Russia should do what it could to get 15 American fliers held by Red China freed.

Experts here said that Zhukov apparently was writing the President under instructions from his Kremlin bosses. If that was the case, they said, the Soviet rulers were using one of their most solid channels in contacting the President.

Mr. Eisenhower has referred to Zhukov and their World War II associations in very warm terms. He said at one time he was willing to consult his advisers about the possibility of inviting Zhukov to the United States if conditions were right.

Since relations between the two have been warm, some observers felt the Zhukov letter could carry some special significance.

Officials said Zhukov hardly could be acting on his own because he is not believed to be that powerful a man. These experts noted that while the army has been gaining prestige in Russia it still does not have a professional army man sitting in the Communist Party Presidium.

This means the Communist Party is in full control of all Soviet moves and certainly calls all important shots—such as the Zhukov letter.

Legislators Assail Action By Evan Howell

SPRINGFIELD (U)—The chairman of Illinois' 300 million dollar toll road program today was charged on the House floor with "assailing" two legislators in taverns because they sought to have the toll road program investigated.

Gov. William G. Stratton's top floor leader, Majority Leader John W. Lewis Jr. (R-Marshall) said if the charge was true, toll roads Chairman Evan Howell should apologize to the two legislators.

The account of Howell's accosting the two legislators nearly resulted in immediate adoption of the resolution to investigate toll roads. The resolution was beaten Wednesday by a bare two votes.

Howell, reached at a private club here, denied any improper remarks or attacks in his Wednesday night meetings with legislators. He said he is "afraid I'm being used as the whipping boy for the whole toll road program."

The report of Howell's actions was delivered to the House in a strongly worded emotional speech by Rep. Carl Prehls (D-Pana).

Prehls has sponsored a highly-regarded legislation and staged a number of stunts in the House this session but his report was verified, at least partially by another representative from the floor.

"It's a sad state of affairs when members of this house are assailed by appointive officers in taverns during a drunken orgy because of their vote," Prehls said. "The chairman of the Toll Road Commission assailed the integrity and honesty of Jack Bairstow, Paul Powell and Bert Baker in a drunken stupor last night."

Prehls said Howell told Bairstow, sponsor of the resolution for the investigation, "I'll accept your challenge and I'll go into your district and beat you."

Prehls said Howell approached Rep. Bert Baker (D-Benton) in another Springfield tavern Wednesday night and told Baker, "You're a tool of Powell's (Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna Democrat). You voted for his resolution to investigate the Toll Road Commission. When we put the toll road across southern Illinois you won't come back."

Held on Charge Of Kidnaping T'ville Oil Man

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (U)—A St. Louis poultryman, Robert Chas. Moffat, 22, has been charged with kidnaping a Thompsonville, Ill., man and forcing him to cash a $5,000 check.

Moffat was arrested by Mount Vernon police and charges filed Wednesday that he kidnaped Walter McGlasson, an oil man who maintains offices here.

Moffat denied the charges. McGlasson told Jefferson County State's Atty. Demetri Hassakis he was driving from Mount Vernon to his Thompsonville home April 12 when the kidnaping occurred.

He said Moffat and another unidentified Negro in a truck stopped his car on Ill. 37 and ordered him out at gunpoint. McGlasson said the two then let the air out of his car's tires.

McGlasson said they forced him into the truck and drove to St. Louis. There he said they made him cash a $5,000 check to "cash" and write it at a St. Louis bank. McGlasson said he gave Moffat and the other man the money.

Hassakis said he will ask the grand jury to study the charges against Moffat, who was taken to Springfield Wednesday for questioning at the State Criminal Bureau of Investigation but returned here pending release under $3,000 bond.

House Approves Measure by 115 to 5 Vote

Will Be Distributed To County and City Health Centers

SPRINGFIELD (U)—The Illinois House today passed and sent to Gov. William G. Stratton the bill appropriating a million dollars for Salk polio vaccine for free shots for 250,000 youngsters.

The bill, an emergency measure becoming law with the governor's signature, was passed 115-5. Stratton proposed the million dollar purchase and the bill was introduced last week.

Rep. W. J. Murphy (R-Antioch) again led the opposition to the purchase. He used the new information that some harmful vaccine had apparently gone out from laboratories in the National Polio Foundation program.

House Majority Leader John W. Lewis Jr. (R-Marshall) said as quick as the vaccine is received it will be distributed to county and city health centers under the same program by which the state distributes other free vaccines, serum and medicines.

Local Centers Decide

He said the State Health Department will furnish the local centers with all available information on which group age is most subject to polio and how many shots might provide the minimum protection for the maximum number of children from the disease.

Lewis said he will be up to the local health centers to determine who should get the vaccine.

Rep. Richard Stengel (R-Rock Island), who voted for the bill, said he hoped the State Department of Public Health would see that doctors who got the vaccine free didn't charge for it. He said he understood it is a "prevalent practice" for doctors to charge for some of the vaccines they now get free through the state.

Murphy called the vaccine "dangerous" and the state purchase "socialistic."

"The public has allowed itself to be brainwashed so that little children can be sacrificed to these laboratories so they can make a killing," he said.

"Is this a Communist inspired move?" Murphy asked. "Who knows?"

Powell Chides Murphy

He said one laboratory had sent out 10,000 vials of live polio viruses and "passed it off as a mistake," but "even one bad batch is too much."

Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna) chided Murphy for the publicity he has gotten by opposing the bill and said the public "should have confidence in our experts, such as doctors and lawyers."

Powell said he has confidence that the State Department of public health would prevent any bad vaccine from going into shots for Illinois children.

Rites Here Friday for Mrs. Donald O'Toole

A service was to be held at 2 p. m. today in Georgetown where the O'Toole's made their home. Another service will be held Friday at 10 a. m. at the Gaskins funeral chapel with the Rev. Bill Fuson officiating. Burial will be in the Liberty cemetery.

Cross Cautions Against Use of California Vaccine

SPRINGFIELD (U)—Dr. Roland R. Cross, state director of public health, today cautioned Illinois physicians not to use Salk polio vaccine manufactured by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

The U. S. Public Health Service has banned use of the Cutter vaccine because at least eight children inoculated with it have been stricken with polio.

Cross said vaccine from the Cutter Laboratories is available in Illinois only "on the market."

All the vaccine, distributed by the Illinois Department of Public Health for first and second grade children was manufactured by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit, Cross said.

He emphasized that "no untoward" results have been reported from the Parke, Davis vaccine.

Use Parke-Davis Vaccine Here, Dr. Wells Says

All polio vaccine used in the mass inoculation of first and second grade pupils in Saline, Gallatin and White counties came from the Parke-Davis Laboratories in Detroit, Dr. James H. Wells, health officer of the Egyptian health department, stated today.

Dr. Wells, whose department administered the vaccinations in these counties except for the Harrisburg city school district, said that no vaccine from the Cutter Laboratories was secured here for the mass vaccinations.

However, he added, any doctors in the three counties who received Cutter vaccine through commercial channels and have given it in inoculations should get in touch with Dr. Wells immediately—at his main office in Eldorado or at his home, Phone 358-W, in Harrisburg.

The city schools of Harrisburg today began their vaccination program under the supervision of Ethel Mathias, school nurse, with local physicians co-operating. The Parke-Davis vaccine is being used here, just as throughout the rest of the three-county area.

There are two centers for the vaccinations—at McKinley school at 1 p. m. today and at Horace Mann school at 1 p. m. Friday. Second shots will be given at McKinley May 19 and at Horace Mann May 20.

The Egyptian Health department has completed its first round of shots to first and second grade pupils in the county, giving them April 25 at Galatia and Eldorado and April 26 at Carrier Mills and Dorrisville.

Rush Investigation of Polio Cases Developed After Use of California Vaccine

By United Press
A cross-country investigation was launched today after at least 9 and possibly 13 children inoculated with a California-produced Salk vaccine fell ill with infantile paralysis.

One of the children died and two 7-year-old boys were in iron lungs following the inoculations of vaccine produced by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

Health experts said there was no proof that the Cutter vaccine caused the disease and urged parents across the country to go ahead with plans to inoculate their children.

Specialists Study Methods
They also pointed out that some of the children might have had polio before they received the shots and that in some cases the vaccine had not had time enough to build up immunity against the disease.

However, emergency measures were taken to make sure the Cutter vaccine is safe.

Two health service specialists were rushed across the nation to Berkeley to study the company's production methods. Another U. S. disease expert was en route from Atlanta, Ga., to Idaho, where the polio death occurred.

Meanwhile, the federal government banned all Cutter vaccine. Mass inoculation programs in California, where the Cutter vaccine was most widely used, were halted in 26 counties.

Elsewhere, the flurry caused by the government ban appeared to be dying down as officials discovered that distribution of the Cutter vaccine had been primarily confined to the West. At Philadelphia, Pa., officials halted mass inoculations of 30,000 parochial school children, but decided later to go ahead. Investigations were launched in other cities

Public Health Service States Faith in Serum

Seeks to Calm Uncertainty by Ban On California Firm

WASHINGTON (U)—The Public Health Service urged parents today to go ahead with any plans they have to get Salk polio shots for their children.

It said they can have "complete faith" both in the effectiveness of the serum itself and in the vaccination programs now underway throughout the country.

The health service made the statements in a frank effort to calm a wave of concern and uncertainty set in motion Wednesday by a government ban on all vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley, Calif.

The ban was ordered as a precautionary measure because one child died and at least 9 and possibly 11 suffered paralysis from polio after receiving Cutter vaccine. Government experts don't think the serum is responsible, but they want to be absolutely sure.

Two health service specialists were rushed to California Wednesday night to make a detailed study of the company's production methods. And the National Institutes of Health began running tests of its vaccine for safety, purity and potency.

Officials also revealed they are considering a plan which could eliminate the need for a ban on a firm's vaccine. This calls for creation of teams of experts equipped to investigate a polio case so quickly the vaccine could be removed as a suspect in a matter of hours.

Government officials aimed their biggest effort, however, at maintaining public confidence in the Salk program as a whole so as not to jeopardize polio protection for the nation's children this year.

No sooner was the federal ban announced Wednesday than authorities began calling back Cutter vaccine in 43 states where it was distributed. Parochial schools in Philadelphia temporarily halted a mass inoculation program. And doctors and parents besieged the health service with one question: Should Salk shots be continued?

Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, U. S. surgeon general, said the answer is yes. His own 7-year-old son, Bobo, will be inoculated shortly in the program here.

More Cases Expected

Scheele said some deaths and some cases of paralysis must be expected this year because the vaccine is not 100 per cent effective. But he said it is 60 to 90 per cent effective and therefore is a very useful weapon against polio.

The surgeon general predicted more cases of polio will crop up in vaccinated children and that they will involve serum produced by firms other than Cutter.

He hopes, however, that by the time this happens the government will have figured out a way to avoid issuing a general ban on a

Young Girl Dies

Pocatello, Idaho: A 7-year-old girl died of bulbar polio nine days after she was inoculated. A 6-year-old boy was also stricken.

Chicago: An 18-month-old boy was hospitalized with polio affecting both legs and an arm. He received an inoculation of Cutter vaccine from a private physician after suffering from an ear infection.

Health authorities have warned against inoculating children who have been ill.

Denver, Colo.: A baby who was inoculated April 15 was stricken April 22. The child is still severely paralyzed. Denver doctors were advised to give gamma globulin injections to all children who received Cutter vaccine inoculations.

In all, the Cutter vaccine went to 43 states. However, the laboratory is not a major contributor to the mass inoculation of school children and in most of the country.

The two top producers for the mass vaccination program promptly issued statements saying they had received no reports of children afflicted with polio after receiving inoculations of their vaccine.

Good Progress So Far

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

It's an old business to look at Congress about this time every year and mutter "not much done" so far. Actually, the Easter break in 1955 found things a little better in some respects, with one especially welcome novelty.

The first session of the narrowly Democratic 84th Congress can, for instance, mark up a pretty impressive record in the field of foreign affairs.

It endorsed the Formosa resolution supporting the President in whatever moves he deems necessary to the defense of Formosa and the nearby Pescadore islands.
At the same time the Senate approved a mutual defense pact with the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Of wider significance in the Asiatic region, the Senate accepted the Southeast Asia Treaty bringing friendly Asian lands into a defense pact aimed at blocking the southward flow of Chinese communism.

And, more recently, the Senate approved with rare dispatch the so-called Paris agreements pulling West Germany into NATO and authorizing German rearmament within the Western defense network. This step caps the military structure erected in Europe to bar the westward flow of Russian communism.

Important as these strides are, they do not represent the whole of the task to be done in foreign affairs this year. There is still the matter of foreign technical and military aid appropriations, with the technical aid program of especial value for the Asian area. And there is the controversial matter of liberalizing foreign trade law to allow our friends abroad to build more self-reliant economies by selling more of their output.

On domestic issues, the story thus far is not so bright. The main achievement up to Easter was a negative one—the successful beating down of the $20 per person income tax cut which seemed unwarranted by budget prospects.

Still caught up in indecisive
House and Senate committee tangles are such vital programs as highway and school construction assistance. The country must hope sincerely that Democratic objections to President Eisenhower's proposals in these fields will not prevent passage of badly needed legislation. The nation's requirements for more and better schools and highways must be met swiftly. The programs deserve top priority.

Also meriting prompt attention are bills calling for substantial pay increases for postal and other federal workers, and a statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. This Congress could further distinguish itself by beating down an attempt to restore rigid farm price supports.

The novelty in the 84th up to now has been the relative lack of emphasis on investigations, which for some years past had begun to seem like the major business of Congress. Aside from the stock market inquiry, most of the 1955 probes have been pretty modest affairs. The restoration of balance and perspective to this congressional function is a healthy sign.

If one had to sum up as of now,
the judgment probably would be:
Much still to be done, but better than average progress so far.

superintendent, announced today.
The Anna State hospital serves the 25 southern counties in Illinois and has a patient population ranging from between 2400 to 2500. Concerning this, Dr. Steck said recently, "There is hardly a person in these 25 counties who does not have a friend, relative, or neighbor who is or has been a patient at the hospital, and because of this we feel that the citizens in this area will enjoy visiting during Open House."

who have been chosen as such by their fellow workers. Dr. Martin

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Karl Bickel Says State Department Tried To Curry Favor
With New York Times; White House Tries To Pressure Negro Correspondent; Big Business Paid One Noted Columnist.

WASHINGTON. — Karl Bickel, former president of the United Press Association, who did more to sell unbiased American news around the world than any one man, has some pungent things to say about the way the Eisenhower administration is trying to influence the press.

"The State Department," he says, referring specifically to Du-les' gift of the Yalta documents to the New York Times, "is resorting to the old vicious method of the chanceries of Europe practiced after the Napoleonic wars and World War I when steam presses, roll paper, etc., began to make the press a great potential power."

"Then every government in Europe began controlling the press by controlling the news through bribery. One of the chief forms of bribery was the business of slipping important governmental news out to the favored papers, thus trying to kill off the opposition press."

"That was how the kept press of Europe finally worked into the great European press association consortium dominated by Reuters, Havas, Wolfe's, Stefani, which largely brought about World War I and was finally smashed in 1933."

"Pressure by favoritism has been a threat to American democratic institutions for the past 150 years and now this sanctimonious gentleman in the State Department tries to seduce the new York Times by giving the Times the Yalta papers and about a million dollars worth of publicity."

HAGERTY PRESSURES

Mr. Bickel, who helped break me into the columning business, would be interested in another type of "favoritism" — in reverse as practiced today by White House Press Secretary James
Hagerty when he summoned Ethel Payne, reporter for the widely circulating Negro newspaper, the Chicago Defender, and threatened her with loss of her White House credentials.

Miss Payne had been asking questions on segregation at White House press conferences which seemed to irritate the President.
Certainly, Hagerty made it clear they irritated him. For he had done a thorough investigation of Miss Payne, which apparently included her income-tax returns.

"I see here that you were paid by the CIO at the same time you were serving as an accredited news correspondent at the White House," Hagerty said, looking at a statement of Miss Payne's income. "We can't have that. It's against regulations. The CIO-PAC is a political organization and I have to report this to the standing committee of correspondents."

Miss Payne explained that she had done some temporary work editing material for the CIO-PAC during the 1952 campaign.

"However, I am a full-time correspondent for the Chicago Defender," she explained.

"It says here that you were paid by the CIO on September 10, 1954," continued Hagerty, reading the report before him. "Are you still on the CIO payroll?"
"Absolutely not," replied the Negro correspondent. "It is correct that I received a payment from the CIO on September 10, but that was the last payment I received. Furthermore I only edited campaign material. I had nothing to do with making policy."

Hagerty said he would look into the matter further and advise Miss Payne of his decision.

SIDE PAYMENTS

Under White House rules, Hagerty was right. A correspondent paid for political services is not supposed to be accredited to press conferences.

Miss Payne, of course, was paid by a labor union. In contrast let's see what has happened to a widely syndicated columnist who was paid on the side by the National Association of Manufacturers and Republic Steel.

He is George Sokolsky, paid $29,599.47 by the two above-named big business groups, plus $3,409.36 for expenses, through a camouflaged arrangement with the public-relations firm of Hill and Knowlton whereby no one knew of the payments.

Thus while Sokolsky was writing a newspaper column, giving lectures and appearing on the radio, the American public did not know that his rootin'-tootin' attacks on labor and his eloquent plea for an open shop in 1937 was influenced by big business to the tune of $29,599.47.

While the public didn't know this, the newspaper publishing world did become aware of it through a Senate hearing a year later, when a sworn testimony brought out the payments made to Sokolsky, the details by which they were concealed, and the mission he was given of opposing organized labor.

Furthermore Mr. Sokolsky's receipt of money on the side from the NAM and Republic Steel followed a pattern he had previously set of taking money from non-newspaper sources. Twice before, according to official undisputed records, he had done this.

First he was a paid propagandist for the Japanese at the same time he was writing from the Far East for American newspapers. His official title was editor of the Far Eastern Review, a completely subsidized Japanese government publication. Sokolsky had married a Chinese girl and had been rapid in attacking Japanese imperialism in China. But overnight he accepted a job from the Japanese and switched his writing completely.

Following this, he switched

New Outbreak of Violence in Southern Strikes

ATLANTA (AP)—A new outbreak of dynamiting, violent demonstrations, cable sabotage and shooting heightened tension today in a telephone strike in nine states in the South.

The incidents marked one of the most intensive and widespread outbreaks of violence since two major strikes hit a total of 13 southern states 46 days ago.

Almost all the violence reported Wednesday night was connected with the strike of the CIO Communication Workers of America in a stalemated dispute with the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Federal mediators called a meeting with representatives of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad and striking rail unions after a renewed attempt Wednesday night failed to make any progress toward settling the South's other major walkout.

Truman Takes Verbal Swing At Brownell

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Truman departed from a prepared speech Wednesday night to take an implied verbal swing at Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Brownell.

He later apologized in conversation for "blowing up," but added "it's just that we've got such a darn bungler in the attorney general's office."

Mr. Truman ad libbed heatedly in a speech before the Chicago Decalogue Society of Lawyers, which presented him with its 1954 "Award of Merit."

In a speech on civil rights, the ex-president said "it is the duty of the attorney general of the United States—who has sworn just as I did when I took the oath of office—to preserve the Bill of Rights as well as to protect the rights of the people."

"The Bill of Rights is just as important as the Constitution itself."

Mr. Truman made the off-the-cuff remarks immediately after saying "recent history has demonstrated . . . that unless citizens have rights against the government, no one can be safe or secure."

He made his "darn bungler" remark later to Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, a fellow guest at the banquet.

The former president received a full share of congratulatory messages, including a surprise compliment from Alfred M. Landon.

Landon, the Republicans' 1936 presidential candidate, sent a message saying that when all the official papers are revealed he thinks Mr. Truman "will go down in history as one of our great presidents."

Mr. Truman said Landon's telegram "almost knocked me off my chair. I now wish I had received a few more votes."

FBI Arrests Three Attendants in Hospital Death

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The FBI announced the arrest of three former veterans hospital attendants at Danville today in the death of a patient.

FBI agent-in-charge Percy Wyly said the three men have been charged with murder in the March 30 death of Ralph Raymond Haverstick. He said they would be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Marie Burnett at Danville.

The three attendants were Robert White Gassaway, 32, Calvin Monroe Johnson, 43, both of Danville, and Andrew Joseph Szota, 39, Tilton.

Wyly said Haverstick suffered fatal injuries in a beating at the Danville Veterans hospital Feb. 23. He was removed to a veterans hospital in Chicago where a brain operation was performed in an attempt to save him, but he died March 30.

The cases of paralytic polio which prompted the Cutter ban were reported in Chicago, Denver, and in four California cities—Ventura, Napa, Oakland, and San Diego where there were two cases. The death occurred in Pocatello, Idaho.

Salk Endorses Inquiry

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the vaccine's developer, said in Pittsburgh "it is difficult to say" whether the vaccination in these cases was "one of cause and effect or one of coincidence." He endorsed the federal investigation.

Cutter vaccine was distributed in large quantities for the National Polio Foundation's big program in the West. But small batches also were released to many other states, including 11 in the Midwest.

The list includes Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, Maine, Connecticut, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, California, Oregon, Nevada, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, West Virginia, Colorado, Wyoming and Illinois.

Says Hasty Reply To Chou Blocked Release of Airman

TOKYO (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N. Y.) said today the blunt initial United States reaction to Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's Formosa negotiations offer blocked early release of 11 American airmen imprisoned by Communist China.

Powell said that Chou offered to release the fliers "almost immediately" if the U. S. "acts friendly and well disposed" toward his proposal to negotiate directly on the Formosa issue.

The State Department's "too hasty reply" the congressman said, "has thrown everything off schedule."

Powell said Chou's offer was relayed to him Tuesday in Singapore by a member of the Pakistan delegation to the Bandung conference. He told the United Press he could not reveal the name of his informant.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has received no evidence that Red China was or is ready to release 15 American fliers jailed in Communist China, informed sources said today.

They said, however, that recent developments looking to possible U. S.-Red Chinese negotiations on a Formosa cease-fire have raised many official hopes that the fliers may be released soon.

Diana Barrymore Takes Overdose Of Sleeping Pills

BOSTON (AP)—Actress Diana Barrymore responded satisfactorily today to treatment for an apparent overdose of sleeping pills.

The free-swinging, husky-voiced daughter of the late John Barrymore was taken to City hospital Wednesday night shortly after she collapsed at her hotel room.

She was the second prominent actress in two days to be hospitalized for taking an overdose of sleeping tablets. Susan Hayward collapsed at her Hollywood home Tuesday.

A hospital spokesman said Diana spent a "fairly comfortable night" and was "responding satisfactorily" to treatment today.

Dr. Chester E. Bromwell said Miss Barrymore's husband, Robert Wilcox, told him Diana had "collapsed from nervous exhaustion."

The actress was in a "comatose condition" when brought to the hospital in an ambulance about three hours before she was to appear as the star of Wednesday night's performance of the comedy "Pajama Tops," at the Majestic Theater here. Wilcox is her leading man in the show.

House Committee Recommends Fair Labor Bill

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The House Industry and Labor Relations committee has recommended passage of a "fair employment practices" act aimed at banning racial and religious discrimination.

Seventeen Democrats and three Republicans voted favorably on the measure Wednesday, and nine Republicans voted against it.

The bill would create an Illinois equality of employment opportunity commission of five bipartisan members to enforce non-discrimination in employment.

It would exempt employers of 25 persons or less and religious, fraternal and social organizations.

Similar bills advocated by former Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Gov. William G. Stratton have failed to pass the Legislature in recent sessions.

Charley Powell Found Fighting in Ring is Tougher Than Football

NEW YORK (NEA) — A prize fighter thinks a football player is crazy.

A football player considers a prize fighter just plain nuts.

Which is the toughest—fighting or football?

Charley Powell, the greatest all-round athlete ever to rub the soles of his shoes in resin, found out.

Knocked out twice, the 22-year-old Powell is returning to the San Francisco 49ers next fall.

Powell, remarkable everywhere but in the ring, is one of the mighty few football players who hopped directly from high school to the professionals.

Powell fooled a lot of people who should know through 12 build-up bouts or until he was hung on the end of a Charley Norkus left hook in San Francisco.

He had made up his mind that the back busting business wasn't for him before he was knocked out in the sixth round by Johnny Summerlin, a cute club fighter out of Detroit, in Los Angeles the other night. He'll make another two or three starts, including an appearance on the Rocky Marciano-Don Cockell card in San Francisco, May 16, but it's just to pick up a bit of change. Prize fighting has been

Snead, Middlecoff Favored to Win Tourney of Champs

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The world's most exclusive golf tournament got under way here today as firing started in the $37,500 Tournament of Champions on Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn Country Club course.

With the winner of every major tournament in United States represented in the restricted field of 21 contestants, veterans May Snead and Dr. Cary Middlecoff held the position of co-favorites.

They were installed as 6-1 favorites to win the first prize of $10,000—something they both have failed to do in the two years the tournament has been held.

In both previous instances victory went to outsiders. In 1953, for the first tourney, top money went to A. J. Resnik. Last year it went to rank outsider Art Wall. Wall is back to defend his crown, but Resnik, who finished second last year, failed to win a major PGA-sponsored tournament this year and was not eligible to participate.

"Snead and Middlecoff are the favorites," says host professional Howard Capps, "but the gamblers are reckoning without the wind. I fear. If it continues to blow, such Texans as Tommy Bolt, Billy Maxwell and Lloyd Mangrum, who shoot that long, low ball off the tee, are going to be tough."

The wind has been so rugged the last few days that it has forced postponement of the atom bomb tests. This, in turn, has caused a crisis in the housing situation, with the golf followers having a hard time getting rooming accommodations.

The wind has more or less ruined most of the scores of the stars on their practice rounds so far. The best turned in has been a two-under-par 70 by Snead on the 7209-yard, flat course.

Utah Coach Attacked by NCAA For Conduct

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — College basketball Coach Jack Gardner of Utah stood accused by the National Collegiate Athletic Association today for using "deception" and trying to persuade players to use "devious and deceptive behavior."

In a blistering report by the ethics committee, the NCAA censured Gardner for "unsportsmanlike and unethical conduct" in attempting to persuade three Kansas State college basketball stars and one Colorado university player to transfer to Utah in 1953.

Gardner was coach at Kansas State until 1953, when he went to Utah.

The players involved were Roger Craft, Gary Bergen, and Jerry Jung of Kansas State and Art Bunte and Bergen actually transferred. Jung was accepted for admission but changed his mind and stayed to play for Kansas State.

The ethics committee, making its first report, did not censure the players or the two colleges.

SOME CONTENT Suey Welch rushed Powell in the sour science, but the big kid out of San Diego had been fooling around gymnastics since he was 14. While in grammar school, he retired at 7 so he could get up at 4 o'clock in the morning and do roadwork.

While Powell was a 15-year-old, 200-pound freshman in high school, Lee Ramage, the one-time heavy-weight, called him the finest prospect he had ever seen.

The opinion appeared in print in Los Angeles and Welch, who had Kayo Christner, the heavy, and a world middleweight champion in Gorilla Jones, sent for Powell. After watching him work with Clarence Henry, then a ranking heavy-weight, Welch told the youngster to come back when he was graduated from high school.

Meanwhile, the youngster worked with Archie Moore and Lee Ramage while playing football, basketball and baseball and running the 100 in 10 flat.

Powell's pugilistic education continued while he played professional baseball briefly and crashed the 49ers as a stickout defensive end. Gorilla Jones joined the staff of professors. In baseball, Powell hit the longest home run in the history of the California State League.

WELCH, WHO HAS all the money he will ever need, said he would not take Powell out of football until he was convinced that his tiger was of championship caliber. He took him out and after an early bout expressed the opinion that Powell could take care of himself with anybody, even to licking Marciano provided the match was no longer than six rounds.

"I say only six rounds," explained Suey, "because Powell hasn't yet learned to pace himself."

An excellent judge was convinced that Powell had everything else.

But Powell never did learn to pace himself, among other things, for Norkus dropped him like a broken airplane and nobody Summerlin knocked him out in the sixth stanza.

When Powell elected to start busting heads, he allowed that football perhaps was a little easier.

"Once you leave the corner, nobody can help you," he pointed out. "There are no blockers."

The trouble with Charley Powell was that he couldn't tackle the guy stirring up all the trouble, and being a defensive end knew little about blocking.

That's what you get for playing platons.

Bull Dogs Beat Marion, 6-3, for Sixth Straight

The Harrisburg Bull Dog baseball team made it six in a row for the season on the town park diamond yesterday afternoon, beating Marion 6 to 3.

Everett Evans, on the mound for the local boys, all the way, and the big lefty had things his way most of the time.

It was a scoreless contest until the fourth, when Marion put two runs across in the first half of the inning. However, in the same frame the Bull Dogs went ahead 3 to 2 when Ron Mitchell and Russ McDowell walked, Hefner singled in Mitchell and Don Price singled in McDowell and Hefner.

The locals made the count 5 to 2 in the fifth when Ken Spurlock batted in Evans and Jim Cummins. In the sixth another was added when Evans singled, Cummins and Mitchell singled to fill the bases and McDowell was walked to force in a run.

Marion scored one tally in the last half of the seventh and final inning.

Myers started on the mound for Marion and was relieved by Barbour in the fifth.

Two Harris Bull Dogs were to play today in Evans and Jim Cummins. Coach Lawrence Calufetti yesterday made no substitutions, using Ray Hassett behind the plate, Ron Mitchell at first, Don Price at second, Jim Cummins at shortstop, Russ McDowell at third, David Reese in left field, Ken Spurlock in center and Wayman Hefner in right.

Each year the Junior Police have two tag days and the one Saturday is the first of the year, with another to be conducted at a later date.

Holman TKO's Ezzard Charles In Ninth Round

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Kayo winner Johnny Holman, jubilant at his biggest paycheck and biggest victory, made plans for moving up the heavyweight ladder today while battered loser Ezzard Charles hollowly declared he still wants one more shot at the title.

Holman, a whopping 5-1 underdog, was losing when he suddenly unleashed a furious attack in the ninth round and technically knocked out Charles at 2:48 of that session.

Holman, who floored the former heavyweight champion for an eight count in the first round, dropped him again for nine in the ninth and had Charles reeling about, literally out on his feet in one of the worst whippings of his career, when Referee Eddie Coachman called a halt.

"We would like to match Johnny next against the winner of the Archie Moore - Nino Valdes bout in Las Vegas, or against Bob Baker of Pittsburgh," said Bernie Glickman, manager of the towering Chicagoan. "He's ready for anyone now, including Marciano. All we need is three weeks rest."

Holman may be ready for Marciano, but Charles was ready to admit sadly that his quest for a third shot at the heavyweight champion has been set way, way back by Wednesday night's nationally televised loss at Miami Beach Auditorium.

But 33-year-old Charles quickly squelched any suggestion that he might retire.

"I'm still hoping for another shot at Marciano," said the Cincinnati veteran. "But I realize I've got to win from these fellows like Holman first before I'm ready for a chance at the title."

The sudden manner in which Charles caved in under Holman's late onslaught led many observers to believe he may never again be ready for a title chance.

Jake Mintz, co-manager of Charles, said Ezzard wants a rematch with Holman "at the earliest opportunity." But Holman's happy plans didn't seem to leave much room for that idea.

Pitt Bids to Win Penn Relays

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pitt makes a mighty bid to regain the track glory of the days of long John Woodruff at the Penn Relays this weekend, and the burden falls on the shoulders of young Arnie Sovell, a slim speedster whose smooth strides can make carnival history.

Sovell easily is the glamor boy of the 61st annual carnival which has 3,100 entries for the 81 events spaced from Friday afternoon through Saturday. Eight major relay titles will be decided, and 13 individual championships will be run with seven titleholders defending.

Northwestern Beats Irish, 8-1

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern defeated Notre Dame 8-1 Wednesday as Ziggy Niepok pitched two-hit ball for five innings.

Notre Dame got six hits and its only run from Don Zitek, who pitched the rest of the way.

Northwestern sealed the victory with four runs in the second inning as Notre Dame pitcher Bernie McCleore forced home two runners on walks.

Northwestern's Clyde Schoenne scored three hits.

There is power in the top of that lineup—and not just Vic Power, either. He's the leadoff man with three homers, but look what comes after him. Jim Renna, hitting next, also has three homers, then comes Jim Finigan with four, Gus Zernial with four, and Bill Wilson with three.

And to make the joy run full cycle for Kansas City fans there's

Says Youth Better Prepared for Korea Than World War II

CHICAGO (AP) — American fighting men "behaved far better" in Korea than in World War II, an Army doctor said today.

Col. Donald B. Peterson, chief psychiatrist and neurologist, consultant in the Army surgeon general's office, said youth was better prepared mentally for combat in the Korean War.

Peterson said that because this country "hates war," training and education of the pre-World War II generation did not put youth into the frame of mind for engaging in combat to defend the nation.

However, the colonel said, youths who fought in the Korean War were conditioned better for battle because they had heard of exploits of older men during World War II.

Peterson spoke at the opening session of a conference aimed at developing an "informed approach" to Illinois juvenile delinquency problems.

The only other crew with as many homers is the White Sox and they made eight of their 17 against Kansas City, seven in that 29-6 nightmare of last Saturday.

In a 17-inning thriller, longest in the majors since June 23 of last season, Cleveland downed Washington, 6-5, on a rally touched off by Joe Altobelli's double. Jim Hegan's sacrifice and two intentional passes, ordered by Nat Manager Charley Dressen, loaded the bases but Bobby Avila nullified the strategy with a game-winning sacrifice fly.

In other American league games the White Sox pounded out a 14-hit, 13-4 triumph over the Yankees and Detroit topped Baltimore, 11-3.

In the National league, Brooklyn topped Cincinnati 7-2 in a "walkathon" in which the Dodgers drew 13 passes and the Redlegs six. Milwaukee defeated the Giants 9-6, and Pittsburgh won from Chicago, 4-1, on Bob Purkey's four-hit, St. Louis at Philadelphia 1-0, was postponed because of cold weather.

Gives Up One Hit
Billy Loes gave only one hit before a blistered finger forced his retirement in the eighth and Ed Roebuck gave Cincy only one more hit in relief. Brooklyn clinched it with a three-run rally in the fourth in which Roy Campanella's two-run single was the big hit. Loes won his third game.

Milwaukee made 12 hits including a homer and two singles by Bobby Thomson and homers by Danny O'Connell and Hank Aaron. Gene Conley gave up just two hits until the ninth when the Giants made five runs, three on a pinch-homer by Hank Thompson. It was Conley's second triumph.

Pittsburgh made 13 hits in winning its second game after losing eight in a row. Dick Groat set the pace with three singles.

Walt Dropo hit two homers and a double for Chicago and relief pitcher Billy Pierce retired 14 men in a row after starter Virgil Trucks yielded first inning Yankee homers to Hank Bauer and Andy Carey. Whitey Ford, kayoed in a five run first, saw his string of 12 scoreless innings end and also lost his first game after three victories for the New Yorkers.

Detroit gave Steve Gromek solid support for his third victory, Frank House hitting a grand slam home run. Jim Delsing drove in three runs with a double and two singles. Chuck Diering homered for Baltimore.

SIU Tracksters Break Two Records In Losing Meet

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Southern Illinois university tracksters broke two school records in losing a dual meet to Eastern 68-63 Tuesday.

Ed Hayes, husky freshman from San Francisco, Calif., set new school and stadium marks by tossing the 16 pound shot 47 feet 3 1/2 inches. The old SIU mark was 45 feet 8 inches by Bill Guiney, Zeigler, in 1942. LeRoy LaRose of Eastern set the McAndrew Stadium record in 1948 with a 46 feet 9 inches heave.

The Southern mile relay team, running together for the first time, clipped four tenths of a second off the old SIU mark. Bob Kaczynski, Chicago; Vernon Sprehe, Nashville; Tony Velasco, Christopher; and Sam DeNeal, Harrisburg, covered the distance in 3:27.1. The old mark of 3:27.5 was set in 1938 by Strausz, Morgan, Sutton, and Parsons.

Other first place winners for Coach "Doc" Lingle's charges were Sam DeNeal, Harrisburg, 140; Howard Branch, Mounds, 880; Marion Bushing, Pinckneyville, javelin; Dick Blythe, Gary, Ind., high jump; and Jack Souers, West Frankfort, pole vault.

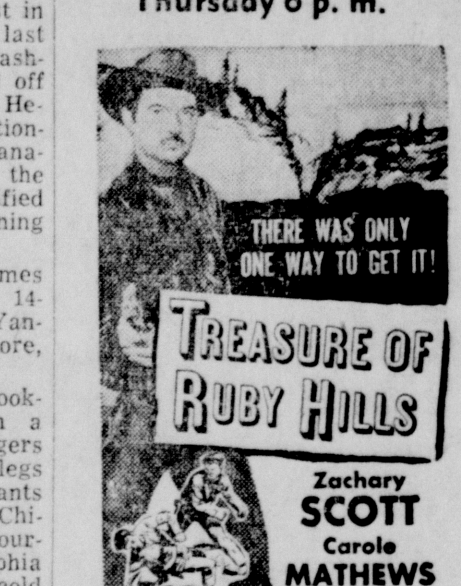

The Salukis will travel to Normal for a dual meet Saturday. Normal has lost two meets, both to conference opponents, while Southern has a 1-2 record this season.

Far East Policy Rebellion By Knowland Casts Shadow On Eisenhower Peace Hopes

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Far East policy rebellion led by Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland and cast in shadow today on President Eisenhower's welcome hunch that peace prospects are brightening.

Mr. Eisenhower uttered his cautious hopes at Wednesday's morning news conference. Some five hours later, the California senator brusquely repudiated the President's newly stated willingness to meet with Red China to discuss a Formosa cease fire, return of U. S. prisoners and "advancement of world peace."

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), senior Republican member of the Senate, beat Knowland to the punch with a statement from Boston objecting to any talks with Red China from which Nationalist China was excluded. That point apparently was basic, also, in Knowland's unusually vigorous challenge to administration policy.

The possibility of productive discussion with the Red Chinese was a major factor in Mr. Eisenhower's mid-morning optimism that better times might be coming. The President felt that the Chinese Reds and the U. S. could get together for talks which did not directly affect the Nationalists.

Knowland said he could not understand how any talks could be had "without the interests of the Republic of China being deeply involved." The senator was equally critical of an earlier policy statement by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles which considerably amended the original department position that Nationalist Chinese must participate in any discussion.

But with or without the Nationalists, Knowland found no good in the proposal of Chinese Premier Chou En-lai that his government and representatives of the U. S. should meet.

"There are many persons at home and abroad," Knowland said, "who believe the communists are now merely following a long established technique to use negotiations (as at Panmunjom in Korea) for the purpose of building up their striking powers."

He said the Reds would demand the offshore Matsus and Quemoy islands as a "down payment" and ultimately demand Formosa, either by negotiations direct or through the United Nations or by force. No need, he said, to discuss a cease fire because that could be achieved if the Red Chinese merely would stop shooting.

With Knowland's sharp attack came the first plain hints that his sustained policy dispute with the administration might endanger his position as senate leader. Asked if his statement affected his leadership position, Knowland replied: "No, not up to present time."

Pressed whether his position would be affected in the future if the administration ignored his protests, Knowland replied: "No, I wouldn't draw any conclusions."

But there was a modest buzz of cloak room talk today that the California senator was not in a good position to be challenging the administration on its Asia policies. One senator said he thought Knowland "had better be careful," because he would not find much support from fellow Republicans for his present stand.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's compulsory reserve training bill, approved by the House Armed Services Committee would give a man the following choices for military service:

1. Enlistments: Three years in the Army, with two years in the ready reserve, or four years in the Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps, with one year in the ready reserve.
2. Enlistments: Before age 19 in the Navy for two years. Active duty is followed by more ready reserve training for an overall total of five years.
3. Draft: For two years, followed by three years in the ready reserve.
4. Six-month plan: 17 and 18-year-olds and certain older men with "critical skills" could volunteer for six months military training, followed by 7½ years in the ready reserve. The number would be limited to between 100,000 and 250,000 a year.

Vinson Expects House Approval Of Reserve Bill

Measure Includes Authority for Ike to Act in Emergency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee predicted today that the House will approve the administration's compulsory military reserve training bill.

The Georgia Democrat said he expects House action next week.

The bill, including authority for President Eisenhower to call one million reserves into emergency action, was approved Wednesday by the committee by a vote of 31-5.

Under present law, the President can call reserves only after Congress first specifies how many.

The bill also would inaugurate a new six-month military training plan, on a voluntary basis, for a limited number of men, most 17 and 18-year-olds.

The administration plan, including for the first time a penalty for men who fail to keep up reserve training, is aimed at building up a 2,900,000-man ready reserve by 1960.

The committee by a vote of 32-2 approved the penalty provision—a 45-day recall to active duty under penalty of court-martial.

Meanwhile, the House by voice vote approved and sent to the Senate a bill to authorize a $250,000,000, three-year armory construction program. It is the first step in an administration plan to spend $1,030,000,000 to build up reserve and National Guard training facilities.

FOUR CHOICES FOR MILITARY SERVICE IN NEW TRAINING BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's compulsory reserve training bill, approved by the House Armed Services Committee would give a man the following choices for military service:

1. Enlistments: Three years in the Army, with two years in the ready reserve, or four years in the Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps, with one year in the ready reserve.
2. Enlistments: Before age 19 in the Navy for two years. Active duty is followed by more ready reserve training for an overall total of five years.

Stepped-Up Use of Penicillin, Aspirin Contribute to Hives

CHICAGO (AP)—Stepped-up use of aspirin and penicillin are contributing to the increase in sufferers from hives, according to a scientist.

Dr. Milton J. Steinhardt told the 11th annual convention of the American College of Allergists Tuesday that cases of hives resulting from such medication have more than doubled recently.

Steinhardt said there are many causes for hives, known medically as urticaria.

"Besides the well known food factors such as strawberries and fish," he said, "emotional stress and feelings of resentment or helplessness may bring about urticaria."

He said hives occur more often in the 20 to 40 age group, particularly in women.

Many Aged Get Their Support from Relatives

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—One middle-class American couple out of every seven partially or completely supports one or more aged relatives, according to a survey of 7,000 policyholder families by Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Of the 7,000 families participating in the survey, 964, or 14 per cent, reported that they were wholly or partially supporting older relatives, usually their parents.

Elderly mothers being so supported outnumber fathers by nearly four to one. The mothers' average age is 72; the fathers' is 74.

Powell Bill Seeks To Lower Fees for Cars, Light Trucks

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — A bill cutting car and light truck license fees but putting a steep mileage tax on long-distance, heavy trucks today was introduced in the Illinois House.

Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna), one of four sponsors, said the bill was designed to help the car owner and small trucker instead of "making him pay for damages done by the big freighters."

The bill set the annual license fee at $10 for all cars, abolishing the horsepower rating system in use at present but permitting those who now pay $6.50 to continue to do so.

It cuts the license fee for trucks under 20,000 pounds and for truck-trailers under 30,000 pounds from $3 to $9.

Former Police Captain Placed On Probation

PEORIA, Ill. — The former state president of the Illinois Policemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn. today was placed on probation for one year for forging a $15 federal check.

Ex-City Captain of Detectives Kenneth A. Hill was granted probation for the forgery by Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair, who delivered a blast at the Peoria police department by saying:

"Forgery is a serious offense, but if what I've heard around and about is true there isn't any doubt it's been a common practice in this police station for a long time."

Hill was found guilty of forging and cashing a $15 check issued to Police Sgt. William Fitch, who received it as payment for arresting an AWOL serviceman.

Hill pleaded innocent and said Fitch gave him permission to cash the check to settle a debt. Fitch denied this.

Sen. Glen Jones to Propose Illinois Atomic Energy Commission

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special to The Register)—Utilization of atomic energy to aid in industrial growth and expansion of Illinois areas of unemployment is proposed in a bill which State Sen. Glen O. Jones, R., Raleigh, says he expects to prepare for introduction in the General Assembly. Jones said the bill will call for creation of an Illinois Atomic Energy Commission along lines which have been outlined by Gov. William G. Stratton.

The Southern Illinoisan recently conferred with Stratton on suggestions contained in a Senate approved resolution (on March 1) sponsored by Jones, suggesting that the state encourage Illinois industry to take steps to effectuate the dispersal of its facilities as a defense against nuclear warfare. The resolution was critical of inaction to disperse industrial facilities so as to preserve an undamaged and repairable industrial capacity in the event of an atomic attack.

Jones said he doesn't profess to know how to go about meeting a situation growing out of A-bomb attack nor how the state can best utilize use of nuclear industries which are operating in Illinois but thought a gathering of the "best" minds of such as nuclear scientists, legal authorities, representatives of labor and management and persons with "savvy" and organizational ability should work out with civil defense agencies a program of "preparedness" as well as one which would disperse industry to help employment.

The bill which Jones would submit to the Governor for his approval would have several purposes which were outlined by Jones as follows:

Investigate the problems raised by use of atomic power in place of present fuels such as coal and oil; make recommendations as to proper legislative action to prepare and reduce the effect of any possible A-bomb attack; and inquire into fields of relocation of industry so as to reduce possibilities that an A-bomb "would destroy our capacity to produce essential material." Commission members, Jones said, would serve without compensation.

Stratton said a bill to create an Illinois Atomic Energy Commission should examine application of the atom for its implications in regard to future industrial growth in the state. Jones said the Governor told him that if the General Assembly passes the bill, its members would include scientists, legal authorities and persons with "know how." Stratton said a commission also should work closely with civil defense.

The Governor, Jones said, wants and intends to create an atomic energy commission which would have powers and duties to include suggestions of the general assembly and to meet demands for information on which to base legislation and to aid in utilization of the atom. The Governor, Jones said, feels an atomic energy commission should also include in its duties provisions for the storing of a supply of safer water, foods and other things for emergency use.

State Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, has put a quietus on reports he may be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator. He said he isn't, adding that his experience as speaker, minority leader and as a veteran House member makes it his first obligation to his district to run for reelection "and I will be back in the House in 1957."

Rep. Ralph Stephenson, R., Moline, is doggedly carrying on a sort of one-man campaign against a proposal to increase the state sales tax. Stephenson, from the 33rd senatorial district (embracing Mercer, Henderson and Rock Island counties) across the Mississippi river from Davenport, Ia., contends the increased levy will drive further retail Rock Island-Moline business to Iowa.

So as big state administration biennial appropriation bills come up for discussion, Stephenson suggests they be amended to be cut two per cent. He said if all of such bills were reduced by that much it would save approximately $35 million which with a "use" tax and broadening of the state sales tax would equal revenue to be raised by Stratton's one cent increase in the sales tax.

Twenty seven state representatives and four senators have taken their full $10,000 pay for the two years of the 69th General Assembly, according to state payroll statistics released by State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, Granite City. In 1953 when increased salaries for solons were in process 30 solons took the $10,000 paycheck, seven took $6,000, 17 took $5,000 and 17 took $3,000.

Two years ago $10,000 whereas hold over senators were paid only $6,000. Most members take only half their pay for the first year of their two-year term for income tax reasons. Total General Assembly payroll in January of this session was $1,170,000 as compared to $1,128,000 in 1953. Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter did not collect income for his former Senate seat.

The total state payroll for January, 1955, Hodge said, was $13,147,912 as compared with $12,942,140 in January 1954. Number of state employees in January, 1955, was 45,937 as against 45,246 in January, 1954. Biggest state employer was the Department of Public Welfare with 11,944 who received $3,057,364 for January, 1955, as compared with 11,994 who received $3,001,092 in January, 1954.
